Funds Asked For Broadway As Face-lifting Time Nears

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A grant for $273,800 in traffic control measures in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley has been applied for by the county.

The county hopes to get $196,219 from the federal program known as TOPICS, Program of Traffic Operations Improvements. The rest of the money would come from the road gas tax funds locally.

When the funds are forthcoming, Broadway in Lemon Grove will get its long-awaited face-lifting.

Whether there will be a service district by which landscaping and parking area can be handled is yet to be decided.

Robert Russell, president of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce said that the signature of one more major property owner would assure the latter part of the improvement.

Most of the 12 projects planned are for Broadway in Lemon Grove for improved signal light systems.

New lights are planned with left turn phasing to relieve dangerous waiting lines.

The State Division of Highways is the clearing house for the federal money. County Engineer Howard Taylor said he can see no reasons the money would not be forthcoming, except that the rules seems to be constantly changing.

The Broadway intersections are:

North ave. — left-turning phasing, $27,000.

Imperial ave. — left-turn for each leg, $31,000.

Olive to Kempf — widening and channelize to four through and left turn lanes, $60,000.

Grove st. — three-phase signal, $25,000.

Kempf st. — left-turn phasing, $17,300.

Washington st. — left-turn lane, $4,500.

Buena Vista ave. — upgrade signals, $3,000.

Massachusetts at Mt. Vernon and at Waite, new signal phasing $25,000 each.

Imperial and Palm, new phasing, $28.000.

A $5,000 widening job at Sweetwater rd. and Ildica st. will provide for a left turn lane.

The Welfare Pay-out

There is a welfare program that gets no particular attention because of the nature of its operation.

It deals with totally disabled individuals.

There are people who are old and unable to care for themselves in any way who are supported by the state Aid to Totally Disabled program. These comprise only a part of the aid program.

Then there are those who are mentally incapable of providing for themselves. They, too, become eligible for aid.

The program is under the direction of the County Welfare Department and it operates as the law provides, so this is no condemnation of staff or program.

Yet, when Governor Reagan insists that some of our welfare programs ought to be changed, cancelled or reviewed, part of this program might be one for study.

The part is that which deals with mental disability among our young males.

There are two specific cases that we uncovered locally which make the point. "Joe A" is the 19-year old son of a middle-class employed Lemon Grove family. He attended a local high school where the abnormality in his behavior was his interest in drugs and his subsequent companionship with other youngsters likewise involved. He became the subject of the local sheriffs' deputies and was given psychiatric tests, and later, psychiatric treatment.

Whether the treatment, at taxpayers' expense helped Joe, only Joe knows. What we do know is that he later had several other problems with the law after which he voluntarily returned for public psycho treatment from time to time. Somewhere along the line a team of psycho examiners, none of whom were medical doctors or psychiatrists, certified Joe for Aid to Totally Distabled. For several years he had been drawing approximately $145 a month. He is required to do nothing —not even take treatment. Probably the only concern he has is to avert being declared legally sane. From time to time he borrows funds using his ATD income as security.

"Jim B", a 20-year old male, also a long-time Lemon Grove resident, is not much different than "Joe A" except he has been "busted" for sale of dangerous drugs. He also draws $145 a month and his present complaint is that $90 of his monthly allotment is being held by the police who arrested him last week on a 'drunk in a public place" charge.

Both of these guys show innate intelligence when in the company of their peers. But let a member of the "establishment" make the scene and drivel and imbecilic jargon is then mouthed.

The San Diego Welfare office does not compile records of the number of youngsters who are on the mental part of the program. Nor was the high or low income given recipients available. This is controlled by bureaus in Sacramento.

Releasable information included the fact that youngsters are eligible when they become 18 years of age. And that once on the program there is litle danger of getting off it.

Because medical and psycho information is under tighter control than Russia's missile bases, it is not very realistic to believe that the program can be evaluated as good or bad.

We have a reason for suspicion, though. San Diego James M. Hall, secretary of California's Human Relations Agency told members of San Diego's Sheltered Workshops Sunday night that those who are on welfare programs and capable of supporting themselves should be identified and given the opportunity of supporting themselves.

"Public welfare in the United States", Hall said, "is a costly and tragic failure. It was originally designed as a humanitarian concern for the poor, but a complex system of public assistance has evolved, over the past three decades, into an endless bureaucratic maze decorated with red tape and riddled with loopholes that permit the diversion of welfare funds to people with adequate incomes."

Hall, it should also be noted, is a member of Governor Reagan's Cabinet. He asked for a redesign in welfare programs to provide for those who are actually needy and to insure that others are encouraged to be productive.

Meanwhile, a report handed out by Jack W. Thompson, executive secretary of the State Social Welfare Board, showed that more than 85 per cent of the estranged fathers of California's welfare children have shifted the support burden to the taxpaying public.

"Support of their children is a basic moral and legal responsibility of parents," he said. "It should only be assumed by others when circumstances beyond control of parents require it.

"Our children have an undisputed right to support from their parents; the people have a right to insist that this obligation be clearly recognized and satisfied," Thompson added.

The medical work will be done under the direction of American and local doctors but the youngsters will have completed an extensive 6-month crash medical course (one night a week) before they leave this summer.
Each young "doctor" will have contributed $250 to the Amigos de las Americas program. This money will pay part of travel and training expenses. In central South America, youngsters will live and eat with village families. Room and board will be provided by villagers.
One of the objectives of the group is to teach villagers basic sanitation.
Next year's group is now being organized. Applications may be obtained through Amigos de las Americas, P.O. Box 2353, La Mesa.

Youth Hurt In Motorbike Mishap Sunday

A La Mesa youth who was injured in a motorcycle mishap while trail riding in the Eastridge area of La Mesa, a hill which overlooks Lemon Grove, was in fair condition in the intensive care unit at Scripps Hospital this week after sustaining head injuries Sunday afternoon.

Kenneth Mitchell, 17, of 4504 Palm, La Mesa, was thrown from his 250cc Yamaha motorcycle late Sunday afternoon when his bike hit a rut in a trail, resulting in severe facial lacerations.

According to an unidentified eyewitness to the mishap, Mitchell was thrown over the handlebars of the bike while traveling at a high rate of speed.

The La Mesa Police department dispatched officers to the scene, where the boy was taken by helicopter to Scripps Memorial Hospital. Due to the rugged terrain, no ambulance was able to reach the scene, so a Coast Guard helicopter was dispatched.

A spokesman for the La Mesa Police Department said that one of the department's vehicles was stuck in the terrain at the scene.

The youth was flown to Scripps because it was determined that a landing at Grossmont Hospital would be too dangerous.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

What is meant by a defective verb in Spanish? A defective verb is one that is not conjugated fully because it lacks some tenses or persons. For example, the verb "suceder" which means "to happen" may be used in the infinitive or in the third person forms only. In other words, we can not use "suceder" in a form which would say "I happen" or "we happen." We can change the form of "suceder" to say "me sucede" for "it happens to me" or "nos sucedes" for "it happens to us."

A common way to use this defective verb may be seen in the expression "Que sucede?" for "What is happening?" or "What happens?" If we wish to use the past tense, we may say "Que sucedio?" A negative response for each of these questions might be "No sucede nada." for "Nothing is happening." and "No suceio nada" for "Nothing happened."

Another defective verb is "antojarse" which can mean "to feel like" or "to have a notion." This verb may only be used in the third person when conjugated. Either one of the three pronouns "me, te, se" (me, you, oneself) must precede this verb in actual usage. An example of this is seen in "Se antoja un cafe" for "Do you feel like having a (cup of) coffee?"

coffee?" An affirmative reply may be "Me antoja ahora." for "I feel like it right now." Also, "Que antoja usted?" can mean "What do you feel like having?" A negative reply may be "No me antoja nada" for "I don't feel like having anything."

If we wish to speak of activities that will take place in the future we may say "Que se antojara manana?" "What will you feel like having tomorrow?" A future response may be "Me antojara un chocolate." for "I will feel like having a chocolate (drink)."

Expressions listed below reflect examples of everyday sayings which use the defective verbs "suceder" (to happen) and "antojarse" (to feel like). You may wish to practice saying them with the recorded voice heard on 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:
Say "Que sucede?" (keh soo-SEH-deh)
for "What is happening?"
Say "No sucede nada." (noh soo-SEH-deh NAH-thah)
for "Nothing is happening."

USEFUL PHRASES:
Say "Se antoja algo?" (seh ahn-TOH-hah AHL-goh)
for "Do you feel like having something?"
Say "No me antoja nada." (noh meh ahn-TOH-hah NAH-thah)
for "I don't feel like having anything."

OTHER PHRASES:
Say "Cuando va a suceder?" (koo-AHN-doh vah ah soo-seh-DEHR)

DISPLAY — Mrs. James L. Bruner displays painting of one of California's old missions. Mrs. Bruner recently donated a set of oil paintings of the 21 California missions as they appear now. The paintings will be displayed at the Tower Gallery at the Serra Museum starting April 4 and running through May.

Tower Gallery to Display Oil Paintings of Missions

The Tower Gallery at Serra Museum in Presidio Park will exhibit paintings of California's 21 historic missions and one assistencia at Pala during April and May.

The oil paintings by San Diego artist Mrs. James L. Bruner representing the missions as they appear in 1970 are a recent donation from Mrs. Bruner to the San Diego Historical Society which operates Serra Museum, Library and Tower Gallery.

The Stars of Palomar Woman's Club, Palomar District, CFWC, will sponsor a champagne reception at the Tower Gallery, April 4, at 1 p.m., to celebrate the official opening of the two month showing.

Reception chairman is Mrs. A. Norman Hill. Mrs. Arthur Berthelsen, decorations chairman, has announced that the Club colors of blue and gold will set the theme of the decor. Hostesses for the afternoon affair will be Mmes. Fred McCarty, Donald Ward, Carl S. Woosley, J. R. Nelligan, Fred Bergman, G. H. Marine and Wilburn P. Gorsuch.

Artist Thelma Bruner was born in Michigan. She came to San Diego 23 years ago and fell in love with California.

A prolific painter, Mrs. Bruner has studied with seascape artists Bennett Bradbury, Bill De Shazo, Sam Jacoby, and many others. Mrs. Bruner has won awards for her work at the annual shows of the San Diego County Art Club, California Federation of Women's Clubs, and the Pacific Beach Art Guild. She has shown her work at the Art Institute in San Diego, The Art Gallery in Oakland, the Gallery of Art in Burbank, and Kesslers' Art Gallery in Old Town. Twice she was the featured artist at the Fine Arts Festival, California Federation of Women's Clubs, in Pacific Beach Women's Club.

Knowing of San Diego's need for a complete collection of paintings of the Franciscan missions, Mrs. Bruner visited each mission gathering historic and artistic research material, often from the padres themselves.

She later painted each mission from her sketches and color slides. She donated these paintings to the San Diego Historical Society "so that all those who visit the Serra Museum can see the missions in the architectural and scenic setting of 1970."

The setting for the donation was the meeting of the Palomar District Federation, California Federation of Women's Clubs, which was held in January at the Pacific Beach Women's Club House.

The oil paintings are of the twenty-one missions and the one assistencia built along El Camino Real. They accurately portray the architecture and scenic setting of the structures as they appear today. Included with the 22 paintings is a portrait of Father Serra.

The paintings will be on display from April 4 through the end of May. The Tower Gallery is open every day, except Monday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Library Plans Story Times

The Lemon Grove Branch of the San Diego County Library will hold a series of six preschool story time programs for children between the ages of three and five.

The programs, to be conducted by Mrs. Neale Clifford, will begin March 24 at 9:30 a.m. and continue Wednesday mornings through April 28.

Mental Health Luncheons Start

Mrs. John B. Dail, a Lemon Grove insurancewoman, of 9253 Broadway, will be among 10 women who will participate in a kick-off luncheon to raise funds for the S.D. Mental Health Association.

The luncheon is Friday at the Zoo. Each guest will pay $2 to the Mental Health Assn. and agree to hold a lunch for nine women. The nine women bring $2 and have a luncheon for eight women — and so on down to the last group holding a luncheon for one woman. The project is to be completed in 100 days.

Mathematically, more than $19 million could be raised if every woman performed. Starting with 11 at the kick-off, the total would square itself each of 10 meetings when there would be 3,628,800 women involved.

Miguel Bats Send Hilltop Pitcher To Showers, Net Local Team First Victory

The Mount Miguel High School baseball team, picked by most local buffs to make off with the Grossmont League title, finally tasted the joy of victory last Saturday, after it had managed to elude the Matadors for three straight games.

The Matadors, who lost their first game of the year to Chula Vista, and followed it with a tie with Bonita Vista, finally broke into the win column after losing its third game to Castle Park by whipping Hilltop.

Castle Park was the foe for the local team last Thursday afternoon, and the Trojans made off with a 4-3 win after edging away to 1-0 and 3-1 leads.

Trojans Score

In the top of the first inning, the Trojans cashed in for a run off starter Mike Smith. The local crew evened things in the bottom of the inning.

In the third inning, Castle Park struck again, this time grabbing a pair of runs to lead 3-1.

Mount Miguel drew to within 3-2 in the bottom of the inning, and had runners on second and third with nobody out, but couldn't bring another run across as three batters fanned.

Homer Lifts Hopes

In the fifth inning, still trailing 3-2, Bob Gallagher lifted Mount Miguel hopes with a solo homer, tying the score.

In the seventh inning, however, the Trojans came back again to score with the help of two lucky breaks. With two out, Trojan Bill McRae swiped second base and advanced to third on a bad throw by catcher Mike Bruner. He came in moments later when pinch-hitter Dave Fischer hit a blooper down the third base line.

Earhart Cut Down

In the bottom of the seventh, the Matadors had a man on first with two out when John Earhardt ripped a single. The game ended, however, as Earhardt was cut down trying to stretch the hit into a double.

The local team proved that it must still be reckoned with on Saturday morning, however, as the Matadors collected five runs in the first inning and coasted to a 5-1 win over Hilltop.

Take 5-0 Lead

Three walks and four hits in that frame enabled the local crew to jump away to a 5-0 lead, and gave Matador pitcher John Pennell plenty of room to work.

Pennel made quick work of the rest of the game, as he threw a masterful 3-hitter enroute to his first win of the year, and lowered his earned run average to 1.79.

Pennell gave up the lone Lancer run in the bottom of the first inning, but was able to put out the fire, unlike Lancer pitcher Neal Tatton, who was forced to take an early shower.

Rematch Yesterday

The Matadors rematched the Lancers Wednesday afternoon, and will take the rest of the week off as they await their invasion of Santana and the opening game of the league season, Tuesday.

WINNING RUN — Bill McRae runs into Mt. Miguel catcher, Mike Bruner, on his way to scoring the winning run in Castle Park's 4-3 victory over the local team last week. McRae scored the run with two out in the last inning after a teammate hit a blooper down the third base line. The loss was the second for Mt. Miguel, who won their first game of the year Saturday against Hilltop.

Aztecs To Host Rival Long Beach Saturday

Another chapter in the arch-rivalry between the Aztecs and Long Beach will be written this Saturday when San Diego State's track team hosts the 49ers.

The Aztecs and 49ers, both pre-season favorites along with San Jose State for the PCAA title, will square off at 11:30 a.m. on the Choc Sportsman Track adjacent to Peterson Gym on campus.

"Long Beach has looked extremely good so far this season," remarked Aztec coach Dick Wells. "We'll have to do a lot better than we did against UCLA to stand a chance of winning.

"Overall, we're both pretty evenly matched," continued Wells. "It should be a very tight meet all the way."

The Aztecs and Long Beach have met in dual competition 12 times before with State holding a 7-5 advantage. San Diego won last year in Long Beach 77-68 and have won four of the last six meetings.

The 49ers should dominate the sprints, but as the distances increase so does the Aztecs edge over Long Beach.

A couple of interesting matchups will take place. The jumping events will feature the Aztec's Arnie Robinson (24-8-1/4, 47-5) against the 49ers Doyle Steel (25-½, 49-3/4) and Carl Anderson (24-8-3/4, 47-8-3/4).

In the 880 State's Chip Minnick (1:54.2) will go against Jesse Gomez (1:53.8) while in the mile Aztec Armando Valencia (4:14.6) will test Mike Wagenbach (4:07.0) and Bob Macias (4:12.0).

Valencia, national JC two-mile record holder showed signs of hitting top form in last week's 108-45 loss to UCLA. Armando won his specialty in 9:09.8.

Otis Martin and Bill Inglehart continued to improve in the two-mile as they chopped their times to 9:22.2 and 9:23.8, respectively.

Robinson improved slightly in the triple jump to 47-5 and javelin throwers Tony Griswald and John Stogner upped their marks to 207-3 and 188-10.

"I was disappointed in our showing against UCLA," said Wells. "Our point total was just about what I expected it to be, but we didn't get the performances from some of the kids I thought we would."

U.S. milk production for the 1970 year is expected to hit near 117 billion pounds, up slightly from 1969 figures, and the first annual gain since 1964.

Monte Vista Held Scoreless In Two Games Against Hawthorne

The Monte Vista baseball team played 14 innings of baseball in Hawthorne last Friday and Saturday and came home empty handed, losing two games and scoring no runs.

On Friday, Monarch pitcher Dan Davis was in the middle of pitching a beautiful game, having gone four innings and giving up only two hits and one run, when he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth inning.

Dave Munoz, who came up from the junior varsity team, stepped into his first varsity game in the bottom of the fifth and pitched two scoreless innings.

All things considered, it was a good day for Monarch pitching, but a bad day for Monarch pitchers.

The batters had plenty of chances to score runs, but were unable to come up with hits when they counted, although they did manage to get five hits in the game — the most they hit in a game all season.

Final score was 1-0.

Monte Vista had scoring chances in the fourth inning and the fifth innings. In the fourth, two Monarchs were on base with nobody out, but the local team failed to score. In the fifth, a runner was stranded on third base.

On Saturday, things went differently for the Monte Vistans — they got worse.

Starting pitcher Rick Baker worked for 3-1/3 frames and walked four men and gave up five runs, four of which were earned. Reliever Dave Munoz had less success in the remainder of the game, surrendering six hits and three runs, including two unearned tallies.

Monarch hitters were unable to make contact with the ball, as a triple by Steve Campbell and a single by Ed Sullivan were the only safeties.

One thing the local team did get, however, was a lot of errors, committing two on Friday and four more on Saturday, as they lost again, 8-0.

The two losses for the Monarchs brought their season record to 0-4.

The local team will take the field one more time before the league season starts Tuesday, as the San Diego State freshmen invade the Monte Vista diamond tomorrow at 3 p.m.

The first league test for the Monarchy will be at home against El Capitan at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Second Place In Balance As Gulls Near Season End

The San Diego Gulls continue their quest for a second-place finish in the Western Hockey League this weekend, as they take on the Salt Lake Golden Eagles at the Sports Arena Saturday night at 8 p.m.

Saturday night will be USO Night with the Gulls, and some of the features of the evening will be a broomball game, a performance by the Naval Training Center band and many other surprises.

The Gulls were eliminated from the race for first place last weekend, and are locked in a battle with the Phoenix Roadrunners for second spot in the WHL standings.

The Gulls started this week with an eight-point lead over Phoenix, but the Roadrunners have played three less games. They will have made up two of those games by the time the Gulls play again.

After Saturday's game against Salt Lake, the Gulls play host to the Seattle Totems Wednesday evening in a Ladies Night game at the Sports Arena.

The Gulls-Salt Lake game on Saturday will close out the seasonal series between the two teams and the Gulls have already clinched the series with an 8-4-1 lead going into the final game. The Gulls are 5-0-1 at home, and 3-4-0 in Salt Lake.

Against Seattle, the Gulls hold a 6-3-2 series edge. San Diego has a 3-2-1 edge at the Sports Arena, and the Gulls hold a 3-1-1 edge in Seattle.

In last week's activity, the Gulls split — beating Seattle, 4-2, on Friday night and dropping a 4-2 game to Phoenix on Sunday evening.

The Totems led the Gulls, 2-0, after two periods on Friday night before a San Diego explosion in the third period. Bob Courcy and Willie O'Ree scored to tie the game, then Alain (Boom Boom) Caron scored on a solo effort to give the Gulls the lead. Sandy Fitzpatrick hit the open net in the closing seconds to wrap up the win.

On Sunday evening, the Roadrunners used a three-goal second period to carry them to victory in an important game in the struggle for second place. Andre Hinse and Ted McCaskill scored two goals apiece to pace the Roadrunners. Earl Heiskala and Al Nicholson scored for the Gulls.

The Gulls need a combination of points won by themselves or lost by Phoenix totalling 13 to clinch second place.

S.D. Track Meet To Draw 1,500

A track and field carnival, jointly sponsored by the San Diego Track Club and the S.D. County Heart Association, is scheduled for Balboa Stadium April 10.

Six new events and an added 300 competitors will make this year's 12th running of the event the biggest in history.

Last year's event drew more than 1,200 competitors representing more than 100 teams, according to Tony Sucec, who will be meet director for the third straight year.

Billy Mills, 10,000 meter champion and hero of the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo, told members of the Sportscasters/Sportswriters Tuesday that he had agreed to be honorary referee at the meet.

Admission is $2. Students rate is $1.

JC Relays Rained Out, Rescheduled

The National City JC Relays, an annual track meet for high school athletes, was rained out last Saturday, but has been re-scheduled for this Saturday morning at 10 a.m.

Puddles three inches deep on the track early last Saturday following rain the night before spelled postponement of the meet.

A contingent of about 900 spikers are expected to be on hand for the meet this Saturday, including representatives from Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista.

Rockets Close Season With Weekend Games

The Milwaukee Bucks and the Phoenix Suns help the San Diego Rockets close out regular season action with games Friday and Sunday nights.

Sunday the Rockets close out the season with a battle against the powerful Phoenix Suns starting at 7 p.m. The Suns are still in the running for a playoff spot in the tough Midwest Division.

Sunday night is also Fan Appreciation Night at the Arena. Two major prizes will be awarded fans attending. The grand prize will be a 1971 Toyota Corolla.

Charger Seminar, Free For Fans, Starts Tuesday

"Pro Football Update," a series of three seminars for pro football fans, will begin at San Diego Stadium Sports Club Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Conducted by Sid Gillman, executive vice-president and head coach of the San Diego Chargers, the seminars are free to the public. Other sessions are scheduled for April 22 and May 20.

Gillman explained the purpose of the seminars. "Pro football is a complex game. To enjoy it fully, the fan should know what to look for. We will start from scratch, explain the fundamentals and break down the complexities."

Gillman said he feels that women, in particular, will benefit from the seminars. "The Chargers have some great women fans. But often they are confused by the amount of movement on every play. I know these seminars will help them understand the game."

Tuesday night's session will be devoted to offense. Assisting Gillman will be quarterback John Hadl, the No. 2 passer in the American Football Conference in 1970, and All-Star guard Walt Sweeney. Films, diagrams and demonstrations will be utilized.

At the 9 p.m. conclusion of the seminar, a film "More Than a Game" will be shown. Produced by NFL films and 55 minutes long, it is considered one of the best pro football films ever made.

Entrance into San Diego Stadium is by Mission Village dr. Parking is free. The Sports Club is on the plaza level and reached through Gate D.

The Ridgway Fund, which was started in memory of Dick Ridgway, Mount Miguel basketball coach and former UCLA player, who died June 24, 1970, will be awarded to two juniors each year for the next five years.

Cajon Speedway Readies For Season Opener

Preparation for what could be Cajon Speedway's last season of auto racing is nearing completion this week, as the track readies for the super-stock season opener April 3.

County Supervisors have voted not to renew a lease on the track which expires May 31, which could result in a shortened season, although it has been indicated that the season could run its regular length if the stock car association makes plans for another location next year.

An increase in ticket prices was also announced this week, as general admission tickets will cost 25 cents more and the junior ticket will be dropped.

Prior to the season opener, an open house has been scheduled for March 27 at the speedway from 4-8 p.m., with no admission charges. At the open house, no racing will take place, but drivers will have chances to try out the track in preparation for the season.

Super-stock cars and limited-stockers will run every Saturday night at the Speedway starting April 3, but only nine racing dates will be held unless the Board of Supervisors makes a favorable decision for the track before the May 31 expiration date.

Crews Start Work On College 'Renaissance Faire' Production

With planning complete for Grossmont College's first Renaissance Faire, crews are busy gathering material for booths, banners, costumes, stages, and other necessary props that will go into the medieval production.

Recreating the atmosphere and environment of the Renaissance will be the goal of everyone working on the project. According to Jay Richen, acting dean of arts and sciences and chairman of the Renaissance Faire Committee, in addition to presenting music and drama of the period, an attempt will be made toward an academic festival which will allow for "festivity and celebration" and encourage creativity. "The Renaissance Faire will allow us to examine some questions about our technological age and about different life styles," he said.

"The Faire will be presented on April 22 through 25 on the interior quads and adjacent grassy slopes and shaded areas of the campus. We have already scheduled 14 performing-arts groups in music, drama and the dance. They will perform on three different stages on the campus with some form of activity being presented almost continuously.

"In addition to our own students who will perform, groups from other colleges and universities in Southern California have been invited to participate. We expect members of the National Shakespearean Company to join us in presenting previews of this year's season.

"Between 20 and 60 artisans and craftsmen have already indicated they will set up booths to display their handmade crafts including weaving, candles, pewelry, ceramics and leather goods. Various booths will serve creative foods, appropriate to the period, such as cider, tarts, seeds, nuts and organically grown foods. Concessions offering games of skill and chance as well as athletic type events will be presented. Seers will be available for palm reading and interpreting astrological charts to assist guests in looking into the future. A 'Queen of the Faire' will be selected to reign over the entire presentation. She will award prizes for the best costumes, best crafts and to winners of other events."

The public is invited to join Grossmont College in its first recreation of Renaissance Pleasure Faire. There will be no charge for admission.

Rabid Bat Found Dead

A rabid bat has been found in Balboa Park, according to Dr. H. C. Johnstone, San Diego County Veterinarian.

Johnstone warned residents against touching sick or dead bats and strongly advised that dogs be vaccinated and kept under control.

"A sick bat will appear dead," Dr. Johnstone said. "He will revive just long enough to bite a person or animal that touches him."

Johnstone said "a small percentage" of the bat population, and other wildlife, throughout the County are rabies carriers. He said dead bats may be safely handled by using a stick and a large can.

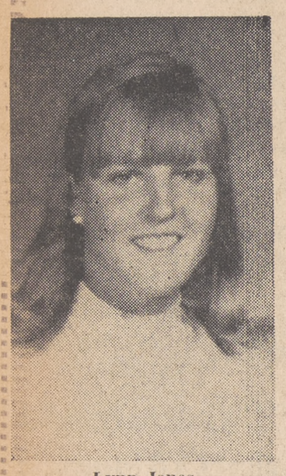
'Tobacco Road' Presented At Southwestern College

By Lynn Jones

Friday night in the Southwestern College Mayan Hall Arena Theatre, Jack Kirkland's "Tobacco Road" was presented. The play will run tomorrow and Saturday nights at 8 p.m.

This three act play, based on Eskine Caldwell's novel, took place some time in the 1930's on Jeeter Lester's farm situated on a tobacco road in the back country of Georgia. The story is about a poor family who lives in a run-down farm house with no money and very little food. The father is unempolyed and dreams of the "good ole days when he worked for a plantation owner. It tells of their hardships and struggles which finally ends in a tragic way.



Lynn Jones

The play was well enacted. The actors really played their parts well, and the conflict between the family and the troubles of those days came across. The play wasn't strictly dramatic but was very humorous. The setting was very authentic and a person could really get involved in the story. By sitting close to the stage, a person could be made to feel as if he were right in the play with the actors. The whole atmosphere was very good. It got the point across of how hard it is to come up from nothing. These people at one time had a little, but once they lost it they never got it back. They tried, but failed. This play could probably be compared to today's world. It is a good play and a timely one.

R. Bruce McLean directed the play. He has lived and worked in San Diego since November of 1970. He has also acted in many plays including "The Face of Violence" at the Cassius Carter Centre Stage. Scott Busath designed the play. He is the assistant to the Art Director at the Old Globe, and is currently designing "The Knack" for the Carter Stage. Bill Snider was Stage Manager. Lighting was by Eric Keel and Mike Lovelady. Sound, Don Langdon; props, Michele Brooks; publicity, Mike Kelley; box office, Mary Jo Hillman.

Others included in the cast were: Randy Howell, Dude, who made his fourth appearance for Southwestern audiences; Christine Roberts, Ada, who started acting on a farm when she was small; Scott Kinney, Jeeter, who has appeared on the Southwestern stage for three semesters; Erin Moore, Ella Mae, who made her Southwestern acting debut; Ron Lederer, Lov, a Navy veteran and recent graduate of Southwestern; Eric Keel, Peabody, who made his acting debut in this play; Janet Walker, Bessie, who made her acting debut in this play; Terri Timm, Pearl, who performed recently at Southwestern in "The Long Christmas Dinner"; Greg Leigh, Tim, who appeared in Southwestern's production of "A Child's Christmas in Wales"; and Bill Carlton, Payne, who made his debut in Southwestern's "The Dwarfs."

Vincent Miranda, owner of the Pussycat movie houses, is venturing into legitimate theater. The first curtain went up on March 16 on his Off-Broadway Theater, which was restored. It was at one time the Lyceum Theater which opened in 1904 with drama and musical comedies, later taken over by burlesque.

Dorothy Lamour is scheduled for Ethel Merman's part in the play "Anything Goes." The play will run for four weeks and then a new play will open in April.

Seats will be $6.50 top on weekends and $5.50 week nights. The 628-seat house is now down to 425 seats. Six evening performances are planned with valet parking provided.

The theater is located on 3rd and F Streets. Performances will be Tuesdays through Fridays at 8:30 p.m.; Saturdays at 7 p.m. and 10 p.m.; and on Sundays at 5 p.m. For more information call 235-6535.

"Hay Fever," the play by Noel Coward, will be playing through March 28 at the Old Globe Theatre, Balboa Park, except Monday. Tuesday through Thursday and Sunday, 8 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, 8:30 p.m.

ORGANOTES— One of the nation's fine, old organs is temporarily resting at the Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial, in Lemon Grove. It's a 3-manual, 10 rank device built in 1926 which came from the Hollywood theatre in Chicago.
In the photo are Tommy Stark and Jim Hansen, co-owners of the local music firm who are restoring the instrument before delivery to the purchaser who is installing it in his home.
Another organ is enroute to the firm to replace this one. It is a 4-manual instrument from the Capitol theatre in Detroit. It, too, was built in 1926. It was designed by the world-famous dean of organists, Jesse Crawford, whose widow lives in Alpine. Crawford is buried in Glen Abbey cemetery in San Diego.
The popularity of organs began to wane in 1926 when talkies came in. Following a 45-year hiatus, the instrument has become even more popular — mostly for home use.

Bench Warrant Issued In Narcotics Hearing For Spring Valley Man

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A bench warrant, with a $50,000 bond requirement was issued Friday in Superior Court for a Spring Valley man who failed to appear for sentencing in a narcotics case.

Jerry Joseph Matayas, 29, whose residence is given in police reports as several places in the 9100 block of Valencia st., Spring Valley, is one of four persons arrested Oct. 7 on charges of the sale of "speed" to undercover agents.

Arrested with Matayas were Joyce Kean Fowler, 22, of the same Valencia street address; William Russelll Joseph, 24, and Mary Virginia Joseph, 20, both of an address in the 3800 block of South Bonita ave., Spring Valley, and a San Diego juvenile released to the California Youth Authority.

Mrs. Joseph and Miss Fowler pleaded guilty on Jan. 28 and Feb. 4, respectively, to lesser charges than the sale of dangerous, restricted drugs. Mrs. Joseph was handed a year's probation and a month in jail, and Miss Fowler was given three years' probation, a fine of $100, and ordered to undertake counseling.

Charges against Joseph was dismissed.

Matayas pleaded guilty on Feb. 19 to transporting and furnishing a restricted, dangerous drug. He was to appear Friday before Judge F. E. Gallagher for sentencing. Matayas and the others have been free on bail.

CAPPED — Janet Richardson, of 2210 Cypress ave., Lemon Grove marked her first six months of training at the California Hospital School of Nursing at capping ceremonies held March 5.

Reinecke, Jr., James V. Dorman, and Ralph Barnhill, who are contesting for two seats on the board. The vacancies are the result of the retirement of Robert Sjogren and Lyle Stumbaugh, veteran trustees.

Victor M. Hall, one of 17 candidates for the Grossmont High School District Board, will also be on the panel.

The meeting is open to the public and provides an opportunity for interested citizens to question local candidates.

Sups. OK Bond Issue

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The Board of Supervisors on Tuesday settled on the figure of $86,400,000 for a June 8 general obligation bond issue.

Only relatively modest changes were made from the $86 million figure being considered last week. Two million dollars was added to honor camp and rehabilitation facilities.

A deletion was of $600,000 for a major land fill near Sycamore. Chief Administrative Officer Fred J. Morey recommended both changes. He said the bond counsel had advised the refuse land fill proposition would need a separate position on the ballot.

The great bulk of the money is needed, county officials say, for court, jail, and rehabilitation facilities which must be built whether or not the bond issue passes.

A $7 million item is another attempt by the county to pass an open space-park bond issue.

Dr. Murray Banks Is Forum Of Foothills Speaker Sunday

Dr. Murray Banks, known as the "psychologist with a sense of humor," is this Sunday's Forum of the Foothills speaker.

Banks will appear at the Grssmont College gymnasium March 21, at 7:30 p.m. His topic is, "What to do Until the Psychiatrist Comes."

"Banks is a psychologist and public speaker of world renown. His popularity is due to the fact that he entertains royally while subtly instructing," according to Paul E. Parker, M.D., chairman of the Forum of the Foothills series.

"We're expecting an overflow crowd and persons may attend the lecture by purchasing a Forum of the Foothills subscription, which would also entitle them to the final Forum speaker, Joseph Kimble, former chief of police in Beverly Hills.

"Price for single tickets for the Banks lecture are $3.50. Grossmont High School District students will be admitted free with ASB cards.

"A special group rate has been approved for groups of 20 or more. For information about the group rate, persons may call 466-4712," said Parker.

Some reviewers have called Banks talk, "two hours of deadly serious fun." He has gained world acclaim for his droll and sometimes "outrageous" humor, as well as for his insight into the normal problems faced by people everyday.

Banks is a graduate of New York and Columbia University and did his clinical studies at Belleview Hospital in New York City.

Banks

He has published six books including, "How to Live With Yourself," "Things My Mother Never Told Me," and "How to Overcome an Inferiority Complex."

In addition, his longplay records are best sellers all over the world. He has recorded seven LP's, including, "Just in Case You Think You're Normal," "The Drama of Sex," "The Lesson in Love," "How to Stop Smoking in Six Days or Drop Dead in Seven."

ment of multi-million dollar Federal contracts.

He added that maximum efficient use of existing college facilities will be required to cope with enrollment increases without degrading the quality of education. He emphasized responsibility to taxpayers for controlling costs.

Vendal J. Di Giacinto, 39, of Star Route, Box 202, Spring Valley, is a candidate for the Jamul-Las Flores Union School District Board of Trustees.

He is a cost accountant and is married and the father of two children. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from the University of West Virginia.

He is a member of the National Association of Accountants, the National Estimating Society, and is active in Junior Achievement. Di Giacinto seeks the position, he said, to help assure that youngsters get the best education measured in accumulated knowledge, ideas, and motivations, rather than measured as expenditures per capita.

Di Giacinto added that the major problem facing the district is that of growth and the growth of education environment, which he said must be structured to bring out the full potential of school children through motivation and involvement.

Dale A. Burke, 38, of 852 Sharon way, El Cajon, is a candidate for the Grossmont Community College District Board of Governors.

Burke, who is married and has two sons, is a Grossmont High School graduate who holds Bachelor of Science and Doctor of Dental Surgery degrees from Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

He has served on the advisory council of the La Mesa Chapter, Order of DeMolay for 12 years, has been active nine years with the Flying Samaritans, and is a member of the Fletcher Hills PTA.

Burke says that the major problems of the district are improving community relations, crowded conditions on the campus, and finances. He added that he is willing to assume the responsibility and devote the time it takes to be an informed and effective trustee.

Group Meets To Back Hall

Better counseling and guidance would be an area of concern for Victor M. Hall, of 2095 Noble st., Lemon Grove, if he is elected to the trusteeship of Grossmont High School District.

Hall is one of 17 candidates seeking two seats on the school board. He is the only candidate living in Lemon Grove. The election will be April 20.

He addressed himself to a sponsoring group March 10 at an evening meeting. Mrs. Lillian Collette presided at the initial get together.

The group discussed with Hall the necessity for expansion at Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista High schools. "The High School District has plans for expansion in other parts of the district but too little attention is given to the overcrowding that exists at high schools in our community," she said. "We've got to make more use of our present facilities and use them wisely," Hall said.

The group plans to set a formal organization this week, she said.

ORCHID SHOW — Orchid growers from all over Southern California had their displays at the 25th annual San Diego County Orchid Show, held over the weekend in the Conference Building in Balboa Park. Highlights of the show, which was sponsored by the San Diego County Orchid Society, were displays of hundreds of varieties of orchids and a greehouse exhibit put on by Rex Foster, of Lemon Grove.
